REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS-PRINT DESTRICT, B. B. DOVENER, of Ohio County. TOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES, JOSEPH C. BRADY. ABRAHAM STAMM. ALEX. R. CAMPBELL. S. G. SMITH,

FOR JUDGE OF THE CRIMINAL COURT, T. J. HUGUS. FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, JAMES A. LEWIS.

Kill the Bill.

There is but one course for the Ropublicane in Congress to pursue. It is the course to which their principles and their duty to the people of the country obligate them-to use every legitimate means to defeat the Democratic tariff bill, whether it is the infamous compromise which passed the senate, the monstrosity which passed the house, or a bill framed out of thom both. It is their duty to fight the destructive and unbusiness-like measure which must be the outcome of the present situation, step by step, and accomplish its defeat if possible.

The people do not want the sort of tariff reform which the Democratic politicians and theorists propose to give thom. They have said so by votes in every election that has been held during the pendancy of the meas ure; they have said so by petitions to Congress, and through delegations of workingmen and women and business men who appeared before the commit tees at Washington. They will say so again in November. Any bill that can now be brought forward as a result of a compromise will be a makeshift. It will not be endorsed by the country; it will not meet the demands of either faction of the Democratic party. The people of the United States are, more than ever, realizing that they do not want the change the Democratic incompetents at Washington are endeavoring

The Republicans in Congress are not in the majority, but it is possible that they will find it in their power to defeat the fraudulent product of warring factions of the Democracy-the product that, disguised as a "tariff reform" bill, they hope to pass, not because they be lieve in it, but to satisfy the campaign demand of politicians for "any kind of a bill, just so it's a bill." And what a monstrous demand that is-a demand that the interests of the country shall be triffed with by "any kind" of legisla-tion, simply because the Democrats demand it as a campaign necessity.

The country is not in distress because of the fear of an adjournment without the passage of the strangely and wonderfully constructed, unbusiness-like measure such as would be the outcome ent under the present circumstances. Only the Democratic politicians are distressed on that account.

The following from the New York Press, concerning the duty of the Republicans in Congress, is both timely and to the point:

"Let no Republican in Congress imarine for a moment that the people want the senate bill. Let no Republican imagine for a moment that the passage of the senate bill, any more than of the Wilson bill, would please the Republican party or relieve the miseries of the people and the paralysis of trade. The senate bill is a sectional measure, conceived in malignity and nimed to destroy great northern industries upon which millions of Americans from the Atlantic to Vancouver depend for support. The whole country is praying for the relief that the complete defeat of Bourbon tariff legislation alone can give. In the name of humanity and of patriotism that relief should no longer be dealed. It is the emphatic, the imperative duty of Congress to kill the Bourbon bill, adjourn and go home Then from one end of the land to the other will be beard the hum of busy workshops and the joyful thanks from millions of happy workers, rescued from poverty, hardship and despair. Kill the Bourbon bill and let the country

Tun Third district Democratic convention which nominated Alderson for Congress failed to endorse the administration of Governor MacCorkle, and Mr. MacCorkle's friends consider that he has just cause to feel insulted. It may be incidentally noted that the Ohio county convention endorsed about everything Democratic except the state administration. Can Governor Mac-Corkie's opposition to Senstor Camden's reelection have anything to do with this oversight?

Decrease of immigration, The official figures showing the total immigration for the past fiscal year are published. They show that the number of immigrants was the smallest since 1880, when the great wave set in, being reported as 314,404, a decrease of 186,532 as compared with the previous fiscal year. An interesting fact is that most o the decline was in the last six months of the year. The following figures show the immigration to this country for the

are doubtless the causes of the great de crease, and as they continue, the next year's figures will show a still further decline. The immigration reported for last June was only a little more than one-third of that of the previous June, and in July there was a much greater discrepancy, the number of steerage passengers arriving in New York being only 11,549, fully fifty percent of whom, it is said, cannot be regarded as true immigrants.

A feature of the immigration figure for July, as stated in yesterday's dispatches, was that the outflow of foreign ers was nearly double the inflow. Nearly twenty thousand who had come to America in search of work, but who were driven back by hard times, returned to their native lands, and so long as the depression in America continues it may be reasonably expected that this emigration will continue.

The following political note is taken from the New York Evening Post (Democratic):

The Democrats of Objo county, W. Va., which Includes the city of Wheeling, yeaterday noninated a legislative ticket and unanimously endorsed like Wilson tariff bill, and heartily commended the course of Fresident Cleveland. The convention did not have a worl of commendation for the West Virginia contacts.

It is true, as the Post says, that the convention did not commend the West Virginia senators. Such a resolution would have been inconsistent with the endorsement of Cleveland and the Wil son bill. It was simply a case of pulling the wool over the eyes of Democrats. The legislative ticket nominated is in the interests of Senator Camden, and, if elected, will vote for him. Mr. Caniden's officeholders, who set up the convention, will see that the deal is carried out. There are some things about the ways of the West Virginia Democracy that the Post doesn't know.

In Senator Gorman's speech recently delivered in the senate, the following delivered in the sonate, the following passage occurs:

"If you please, out of the abundant caution—out of a superadundant caution. If you please the superadundant caution. If you please the superadundant caution. If you please the superadure is the superadure to light rates then now them too low, that it is wise states maniship, true particioles, to make the mistake and make the tax too light and let the laboring people go to wark, rather than to make it too low and then try to keep them all in order with depthy manishas and softers?

That is good Republican doctrine; in fact, it is the very essence of Republicanism with regard to the tariff, and Mr. Gorman is right. That is the kind of a tariff bill the people want-not the wage-destroying, industry-smashing affair in contemplation.

Tue letter from the President to Governor Waite which is to be delivered by the bicycle relay riders discreetly avoids a reference to anything that will call forth a warwhoop from the "Bloody Bridles" of the Rockies.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Rarely does it fall to a couple to reach a great age together and he so closely united in death as were Gen. A. J. Pleasenton and wife. The general died at Overbrook, Pa., in his eighty-seventh year, and was followed the next day Mrs. Pleasonton, who was eighty-three years old. Her death is attributed to sheer exhaustion from her devoted attendance upon her husband and to the shock caused by his death.

ALL THREE KILLED.

Murderer Stole into the House While Moman Was Proparing Breakfast d Opened Fire on Her and Her Uccle. Then Went Upstairs and Shot Himself

PHILADELPHIA, August 8.—Jealousy caused a sensational triple tragedy in this city this morning. William N. Evans, of 4684 Willow street, Frankford, a suburb of this city, shot and killed Louis Hecht, at the latter's home, 1214 Montgomery avenue. He then shot his wife, Era Evans, through the neck, fatally wounding her, and after-wards killed himself with the same revolver.

Evans, who is said to have been a shiftless sort of a fellow, was employed at Green & Bault's dye works. Frankford. Because of his worthlessners his wife left him six weeks ago and went to live with the family of her uncle. Louis Hecht. At 7 o'clock this morning Mrs. Evans was busy preparing breakfast and her uncle was sitting at a table in the kitchen drinking a bottle of soda water.

the kitchen drinking a bottle of soda water.

Evans, who had been seen hanging about the neighborhood late last night, gained entrauce to the rear part of the house by an alley which runs off Twelfth street. As soon as he entered the kitchen door he began firing at his wife and Hecht. The first shot struck Hecht behind the left ear, killing him instantly. Evans then fired another shot at the prostrate man, after which he turned his revolver on his wife. The terrified woman started from the house, and, as she rushed past her crazed husband, he sent a bullet into her neck. The woman dropped to the floor and as she lay there Evans fired two more shots at her, both of which went wide of the mark.

He then went to the middle room in the second story, and, placing the re-volver to his left breast, sent a bullet through his heart. So close had the revolver been hald to his breast that

Mrs. Evans was taken to the bospital, where the physicians say there is but slight hope of her recovery.

Hecht and Evans were each twenty-nine years of age, and Mrs. Eyans, who, it is said, was a hard working woman, is three years younger. Evans had always been insanely jealous of his wife and had threatened to kill both her and Hecht on several occasions. The latter was afraid of Evans and always slept with a big hase ball but at the head of his bed in order to be prepared for a sudden attack.
